Clubs

DFAS (The Decorative and Fine Arts Society of The Hague) was founded in 1991 with the aim of enhancing the appreciation and enjoyment of the arts in their many forms. DFAS offers the following activities:

- A dynamic programme of monthly illustrated lectures in English encompassing the full spectrum of decorative and fine arts subjects including old masters, paintings, sculpture, silverwork, ceramics, architecture, textiles, and furniture design, --all in a convivial setting.
- Special events including visits and guided tours to exhibitions, museums and galleries.

Whether you are single, a couple, or a group of friends, rest assured you will be in the company of like-minded people in a vibrant environment of learning.

Lectures are held the first or second Tuesday of the month at Cultureel Centrum Warenar
Kerkstraat 75
2242 HE Wassenaar

Creative Thinking

Quaak Creative Thinking provides tools to unleash the creative potential of people, using techniques from art educators and specialists in creativity.

In a non-threatening setting the participants visualize ideas and explore how to derive new ideas by manipulating the visualizations. Different concepts of beauty are introduced in order to improve the ideas. Depending on your wish we will focus on mastering the techniques for creative thinking in general, or we may explore a specific problem.

Painting - Art of Delft Blue

Lia Selhorst-van Muijen offers a course in the art of Delft Blue painting at her Studio Tablo. The classes, which are given in a home environment, can accommodate eight participants and can be given in English. The beginners' course consists of eight classes on tile painting. Following these courses there are advanced classes on painting on plates and vases.

Course participants paint with the original blue paint, but also in polychrome, which is colourful. Drawing experience isn't necessary, because Lia has already designed the patterns which will be used. This is done by transferring the pattern onto the earthenware.
